LANDS ALONG THE W.C., V.M.&G.S.R.R. [Correspondence of the Wash. Chronicle.]

Mr. John S. Barbour, the energetic president of the Washington City, Virginia Midland and Great Southern railroad, has inaugurated a scheme, of which I have before written ten. He has concluded that in the great struggle for through freights competing lines have so far reduced the profits as to make this class of freight almost a burden instead of a profit. He has therefore determined to foster immigration along his line, and to build up local freight and travel. To accomplish this end Mr Barbour has obtained permission from the Legislature to purchase and sell lands along the line of their road, for which they can give the bonds of the company, secured by deed of trust upon the lands, and the said lands are not liable for any other indebtedness of the road. The company, through its agent, Mr. B. F. Nalle, has, during the last twelve or eighteen months, been purchasing land, and paying for it in bonds of the company, secured as above and bearing six per cent. interest. These bonds are well secured, and are receivable for lands at par. The lands thus purchased are sold to actual settlers at moderate rates and on credits of one, two, three, &c., up to ten years, an equal installment being paid each year; thus giving any one a chance to become a real-estate owner, and not pay half the usual rent. I am pleased to state that this move has met with a deserved reward and Mr. Nalle has been very $22 FULL SUITS. successful during the present year in purchasing and settling lands. Some twenty small farms from fifteen to twenty acres, were laid off sur rounding a new station, called Midland, in Fauquier county, three miles from Warrenton Junction, and about ten from Warrenton. The plan is to give each purchaser of a farm a lot in the village. All except two or three of these farms have been sold, and the company will probably start another settlement of a similar

The country along the line of this road is one of the richest in the State. It is varied in soil and minerals. Wheat, corn, rye, oats, fruits in any quantity along the main line from Alexandria up through Albemarle, in the counties of Nelson and Amberst. Tobacco is also grown in abundance and fine quality. The finest iron ores and many other minerals are also found along the road. The extension of the main line from Lynchburg to Danville runs through the great tobacco-growing region of the State. The Manassas Gap branch to Strasburg runs through the fertile counties of Fauquier, Warren, and Shenandoah, and richest portion of Prioce William. Cereals and grass are the main source of industry olong this part of the line. Grapes and other fruit have of late years been cultivated with great success.

It is much to be desired by Washington and Alexandria that this great country be built up, and that its resources are made tributary to our

Gen. Sherman on War Prospects.

[Washington Correspondence N. Y. Herald.] Being asked to-day what he thought of the situation Gen. Sherman responded that matters had not yet progressed to that point where his part of the business began. It is still a question of diplomacy, and according to the old adage, "War begins only when diplomacy ends." As to the condition of the material of the army, the arsenals are well stocked with arms of the most approved patterns; the magazines are stored with full supplies of ammunition for small arms and artillery; the depots have abundant quantities of clothing and accoutrements, all in fine condition and available at the shortest notice. He believed that the most effective way of raising such force as would be necessary to an invasion of Cuba would be to increase the numerical force of each company to the standard of one hundred men. There are at present twentyfive regiments of infantry and fifteen regiments of cavalry and artillery. With each company numbering one hundred men the army would be increased to about 45,000 men instead of 30,000 as at present. Such an organization would render unnecessary the employment of any officers of the line in addition to those now belonging to the regular army; the present allowance of commissioned officers to a company would be amply competent to command in the field 100 In many of the armies of European nations, for instance, the General remarked, as many as 250 men are led into action by a captain and two lieutenants. The additional men, he thought, might be enlisted for the war, so that they could be discharged upon the cessation of hostilities. By this method of increasing the personnel of the army the expenses would be much less than to attempt to put in the field an entirely new force. Unquestionably the most speedy mode of raising the necessary troops for immediate aggressive movements would be to cail for volunteers-say 50, 000 or 100,000. From the tone of public sentiment, it looked as if double that number of men could be secured on the shortest notice. Fighting in Cuba would be rather perplexing and embarrassing on account of the arge numbers of pative Cubans, who, there is the best reason to believe, would be friendly toward the United States, but who would not dare to openly proclaim their sympathies, fearing that, after a sufficient punishment had been administered to the Spanish officials, the army of invasion might be withdrawn and they left to the tender mercies of their harsh rulers. The American soldier is trained to fighting in sectious destitute of roads and bridges. This can not be said of European soldiers. He had no fear that the jungles and tastnesses of Cuba would be any obstacle to the conquering march of an American army.

One of the most stupendous municipal jobs has been the Brooklyn and New York bridge over the East river. It is to be a magnificent structure. It is also costly, and very serious charges have been made against the various rings which have controlled it. It cannot, even now, be finished under four years; and will cost twelve millions of dollars.
